The Internet is rapidly becoming the only way to get a lot of things done, yet it is rife with fraudsters, gangsters and other criminals. In this presentation we will discuss the real threat, what the media are not telling us and how it is possible to safely perform our personal and professional business in such an environment. The reality is quite scary, but all is not lost.

Join us to learn more about what’s really going on in the world of cybersecurity and what you should do about it.
